

Château de La Maltroye

BÂTARD-MONTRACHET GRAND CRU

White - Grand Cru

CHÂTEAU DE LA MALTROYE

History

The Castle and the vineyards were bought by his grandfather after the war. Jean-Pierre took over the domaine after his father - who already had the Domaine renowned between 1992 and 1993, after several harvest and vinifications.

Vines & Wines

Vineyards size
14 Hectares (5.8 Acres)

Farming

Organic but Jean Pierre keeps the right to do an treatment against rot at the end

The top value of the domaine

In general, old vines, a very good work in the vineyards and a worry for perfection in every step of the agriculture, the harvest and the vinification.

A few woods

Perfection on details, no compromising, and the full expression of Terroirs associated with the best elevage possible and the best association of oak barrels

The wines

Precise, fruity, mineral and an association of different provenance of barrels with the Terroirs, as a Chef in a kitchen.
